

Chris Johnson is the Chief Operating Officer at University Partners, where he leads operations strategy, asset management, and IT systems. Focused on driving efficiency and innovation, he oversees initiatives that optimize asset performance at scale across the organization.

Prior to joining University Partners, Mr. Johnson served as Senior Vice President of Property Operations at UDR, where he led portfolio operations, platform innovation, revenue management, FP&A, and data analytics for over 60,000 apartment homes.

Mr. Johnson joined UDR in 2012 as an Internal Auditor before transitioning into Operations in 2013, where he supported new development, redevelopment, and NOI-enhancing opportunities on the West Coast. He later moved into portfolio management and was promoted to Vice President and Area Director for the Southern California region in 2018.

Before his tenure at UDR, Mr. Johnson worked at Deloitte Consulting, developing operational tools to modernize database systems in the healthcare industry.

He holds a B.S. in Business Administration with an emphasis in Finance from the University of Colorado, Boulder, where he also earned a certificate in Quantitative Finance.