

Steve Gullo serves as a Managing Director of Portfolio Management at Berkshire. In his position, Steve is responsible for leading the Value Fund Series team. He also assists with the development of investment strategy, execution, and management of investment performance for the firm's U.S. residential equity strategies.

Prior to returning to Berkshire, where he spent the beginning of his career, Steve served as the Head of Residential at CBRE Investment Management for 15 years. During his tenure at CBRE Investment Management, Steve completed more than $12 billion of investments and led the transactions and asset management responsibilities across the company's residential investment programs.

Steve received a Bachelor of Science in Finance and Marketing from Boston University. Steve is a member of NMHC and ULI.