

Jonathan Delcambre is a Residential Practice Area Leader at Gensler, bringing 26 years of distinguished global architecture and design leadership. Over the course of his career, he has built a portfolio of national and international projects across a broad range of budgets and sectors, including high-rise residential, office, hospitality, mixed-use, master planning, education, student housing, adaptive reuse, civic, and aviation.

His work reflects a strategic, context-driven approach that translates client goals into deliberate design solutions responsive to each project's environmental, cultural, and socio-political conditions. Recognized for his collaborative leadership and global perspective, Jonathan advises leading clients and directs multidisciplinary teams in shaping enduring places of lasting value for users and communities.

Through his work, Jonathan continues to advance design as a strategic tool for creating places that are purposeful, resilient, and deeply connected to the communities they serve.
