

Yetta Tropper is a managing director at PGIM Real Estate. She is the National Head of Multifamily Asset Management representing over 60,000 units across the United States which include ground-up developments, renovations, operating and mixed-use properties. Yetta is instrumental in the development of the apartment portfolio operational strategy, in the evaluation of new acquisition opportunities and in the disposition process. Yetta also chairs the Multifamily Innovation Council responsible for sourcing and implementing proptech and other innovative solutions across the multifamily platform.

Prior to joining PGIM Real Estate, Yetta was with JPMorgan Chase in the Global Real Assets group and was previously an auditor with Deloitte & Touche.

Yetta holds a B.B.A. in accounting from Baruch College. She is a Certified Public Accountant, LEED Green Associate, member of the National Multifamily Housing Council and Vice Chair of the ULI Multifamily Silver Council.